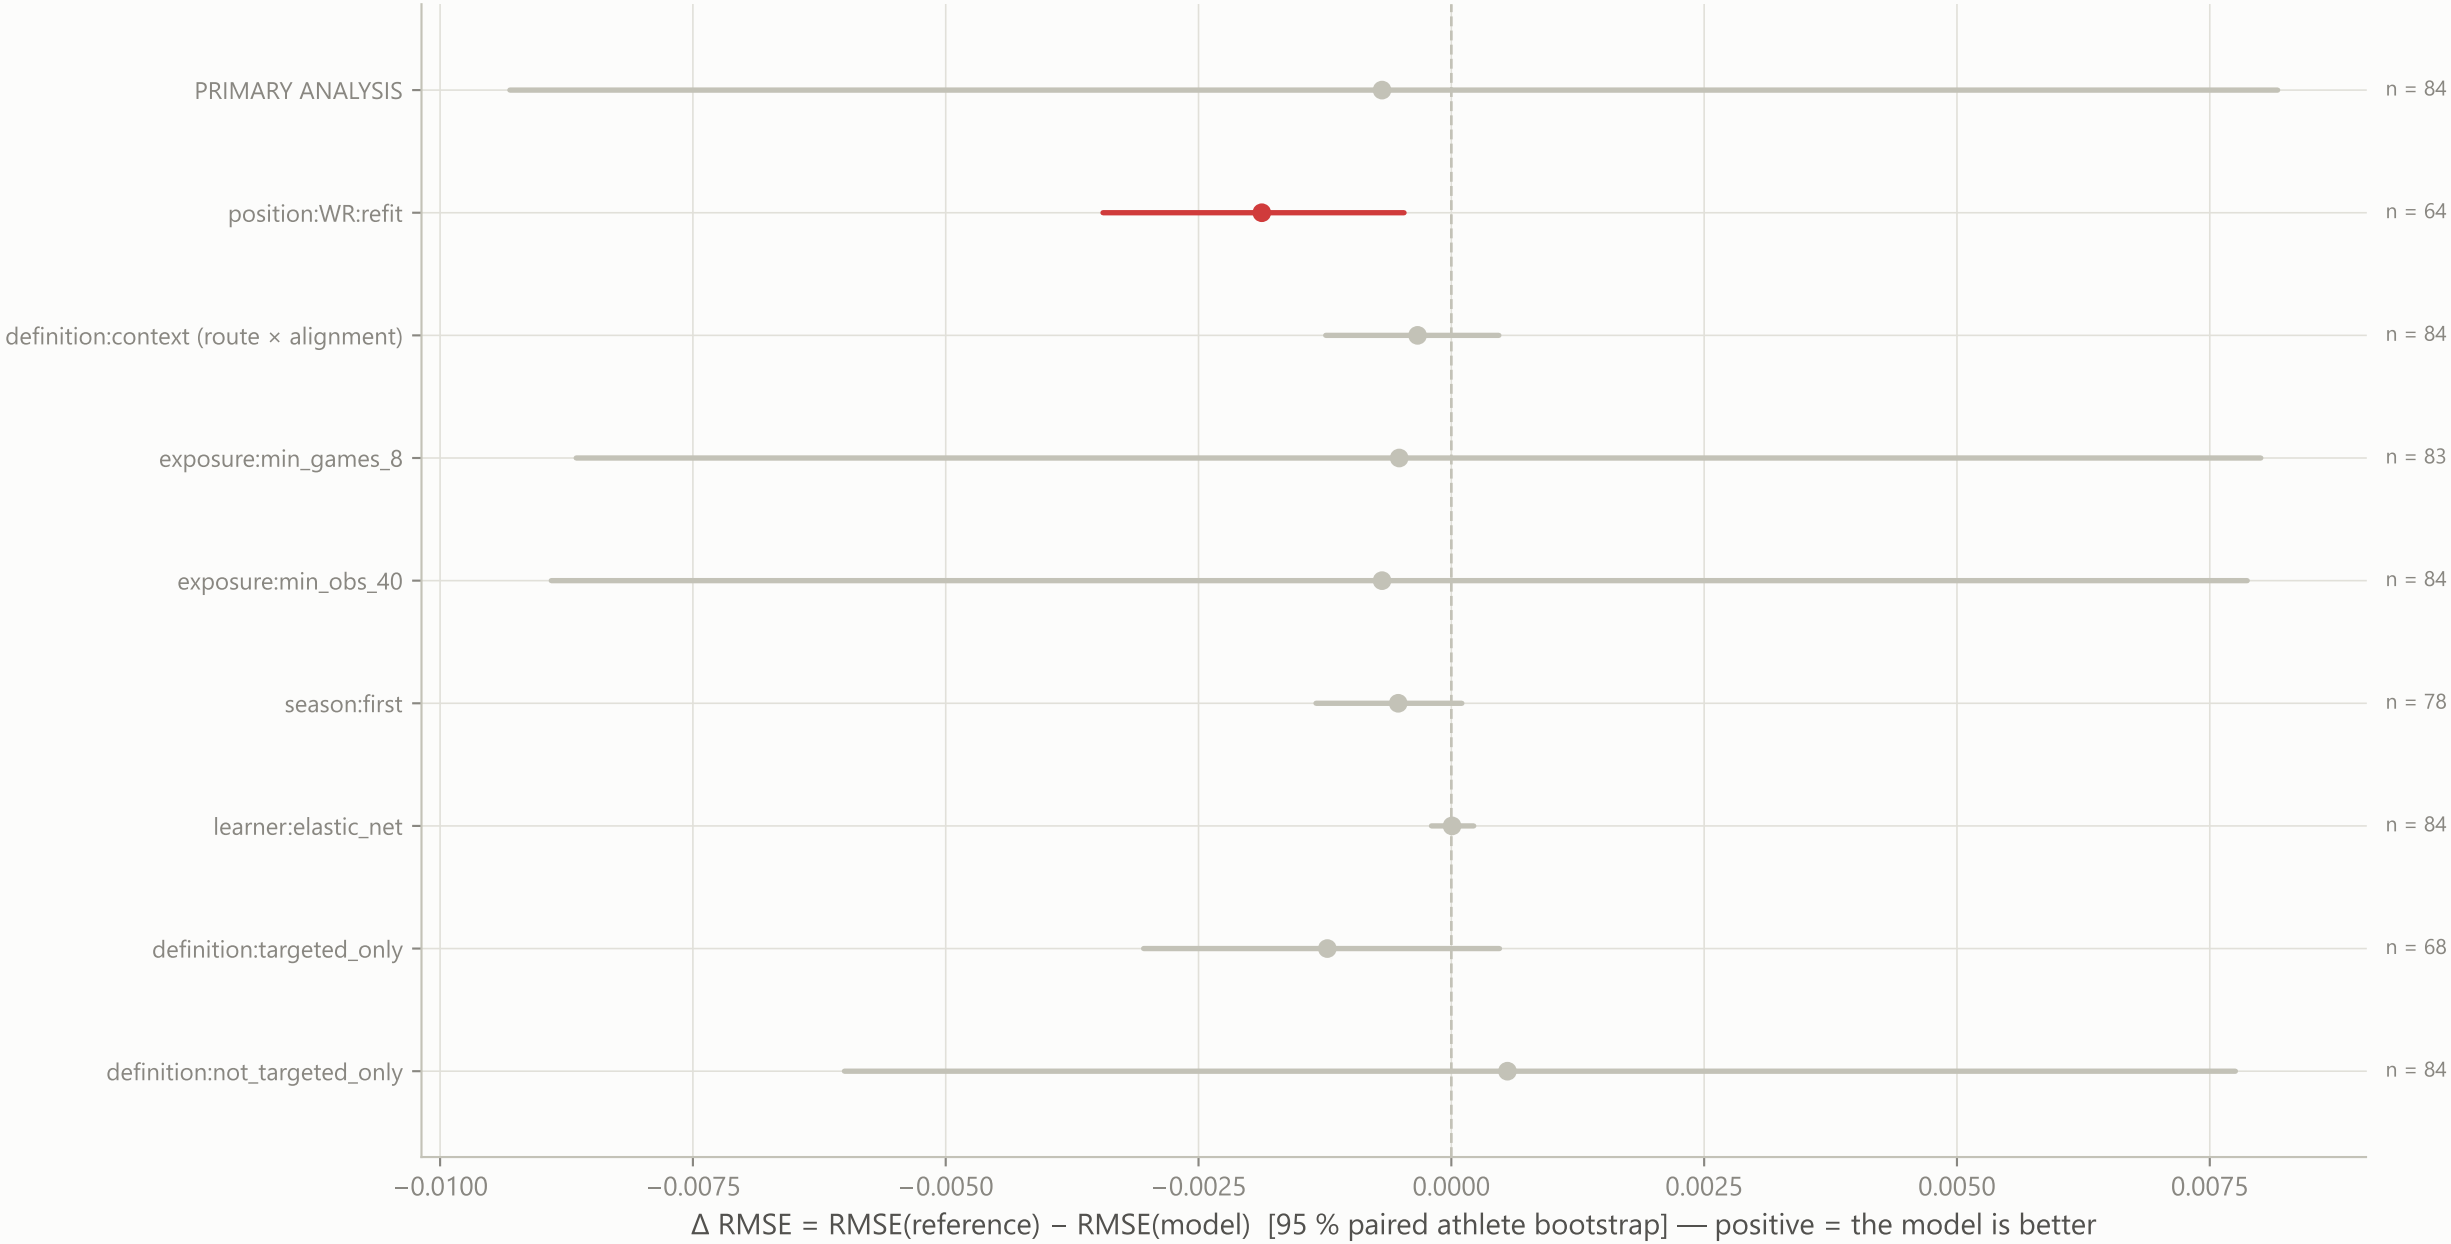
M2 versus M1: primary analysis and declared sensitivities



The first row is the primary analysis. Every other row is a declared sensitivity on its own cohort or definition; none may replace the primary, and the one with the largest estimate is not a finding.